Builders and Trade Contractors: Are you at risk of falling on the jobsite?

...Then You Shouldn't Miss the
*new Fall Protection Training Seminar

The National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), in conjunction with the NAHB Research Center, has developed a 4 –hour seminar for builders, trade contractors, supervisors and workers. This training program focuses on identifying fall hazards in residential construction, as well as, providing student attendees an understanding of the OSHA fall protection regulations and safe work practices to prevent fall-related injuries and deaths. Special emphasis will be placed on the recent change to OSHA's Interim Fall Protection Compliance Guidelines for Residential Construction, including how to develop a written fall protection plan, how to protect stairways, leading edges, window/wall openings and floor holes, how to use a Personal Fall Arrest System (PFAS), how to safely construct rafters and install roof trusses and sheeting, and other safe work practices when working at heights.

The content for the 4 –hour seminar is based on the English/Spanish NAHB-OSHA Fall Protection Handbook and Fall Protection Video, which are straightforward guides for builders, remodelers, and trade contractors that have been designed to show you how to eliminate the most common fall hazards found on home building jobsites and what you need to do to comply with OSHA fall protection regulations.

The seminar will teach you how to:

- Recognize the most common fall hazards on residential jobsites
- Use safe work practices to reduce the risk of injuries
- Comply with OSHA fall protection regulations that apply to the home building industry

Each participant will receive

- OSHA Sample Fall Protection Plan
- NAHB Fall Protection Training Resource Guide
- Other valuable safety and health training materials

Make plans to attend today—it'll be the most informative four hours you've ever spent learning!
